Thanks Rob. I look forward to seeing this all come together for SeaPort’ SE Alaska operations.

Deb,

Wings agrees to your terms and seeks voluntary suspension until the fall where we will be ready for the full audit.

Rob –

After receiving the well thought out and organized letter from Peter dated May 5th, indicating SeaPort Airlines intent regarding the Shield Program, Jerry and I discussed the options available to both SeaPort and Medallion. We fully understand when a company such as yours is faced with the departure and replacement of critical employees and being able to maintain established standards, such as Medallion’s.
At this point in time, you can provide us with a formal indication that you are willing to voluntarily suspend the Shield status of Wings of Alaska. By voluntarily suspending the Shield, you will have the grace period to implement the plan put forward in Peter’s letter. We will remove Wings of Alaska from the list of Shield Carriers on the Medallion website, but not the status of the five Stars.

We would expect to be able to revisit Wings of Alaska during my fall Southeast trip to evaluate the status of all the Stars and gain a cursory understanding of where the Wings of Alaska, soon to be SeaPort, culture is in Juneau. If all goes according to plan, I would expect to be able to make a positive recommendation to audit all the programs. This would then result in the Medallion auditors following up with a complete audit and full set of interviews with staff to be able to move forward to remove the Shield from suspension.

If you do not believe the Wings of Alaska will successfully pass the interview process, we will leave the Stars in a recurrent audit state until such a time as the company is ready for a Shield audit.

With this process of voluntarily suspension, there will be no official communication to the FAA, nor will we retain any records within the Medallion files kept on the participating members.

If, on the other hand, you chose to have Medallion suspend the Shield, we then have to go through a paperwork trail, including official notation made into Medallion files.

Please feel free to contact me or Jerry if you have any questions about this. I look forward to hearing from you soon about how you wish to proceed.

Regards,

Deb Walker
